

ON THE MOVE - ARCHAEOLOGIES OF HUMAN MOBILITY AND MIGRATION

Workshop organized within the framework of the program
"LMU - UCB Research in the Humanities"
Munich, June 9-10, 2017

Venue: Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München
Institut für Klassische Archäologie
Katharina-von-Bora-Str. 10, rooms 204-206

Organizers:

Dr. Caroline von Nicolai (LMU, Institut für Vor- und Frühgeschichtliche Archäologie und Provinzialrömische Archäologie, c.v.nicolai@vfpa.fak12.uni-muenchen.de)

Dr. Benjamin Porter (UC Berkeley, Department of Near Eastern Studies, bwporter@berkeley.edu)

Friday, June 9

Theoretical introduction

9 am: Benjamin Porter and Caroline von Nicolai - Introduction to the workshop

9.30 am: Ruth Tringham (UC Berkeley, Department of Anthropology) – Walking to nowhere: European Neolithic migrations, mobility and movement

Isotope and aDNA analyses of skeletal remains as indicators of mobility

10 am: Philipp Stockhammer (LMU, Institute of Prehistoric Archaeology and Archaeology of the Roman Provinces) – Patterns of Mobility in Late Neolithic and Early Bronze Age Central Europe: a case study from the Lech valley south of Augsburg

10.30 am: Coffee break

11 am: Julia Budka (LMU, Institute of Egyptology) – Across ancient borders and cultures: Mobility of Egyptian officials in New Kingdom Nubia

11.30 am: Carola Metzner-Nebelsick (LMU, Institute of Prehistoric Archaeology and Archaeology of the Roman Provinces) – Mobility and cultural exchange in the eastern Alps and adjacent areas during the Urnfield Period (13th-9th c. B.C.) - a transdisciplinary case study within the DFG-Research Group FOR 1670 'Transalpine Mobility and Cultural Transfer'

12 am: Discussion

12.30 am: Lunch break

Changes in material culture as a proxy for mobility, cultural influence and contacts

2 pm: Simone Mühl (LMU, Institute of Near Eastern Archaeology) – Pots and People? Tracing mobility in the western Zagros mountain environment in the 3rd and 2nd millennium BC

2.30 pm: Michael Roaf (LMU, Institute of Near Eastern Archaeology) – The Persian migration into Fars

3 pm: Coffee break

3.30 pm: Salvatore Ortisi (LMU, Institute of Prehistoric Archaeology and Archaeology of the Roman Provinces) – Mobility and migration in the frontier provinces of the Roman Empire. The case study of Raetia on the Upper Danube

4 pm: Mélanie Flossmann-Schütze (LMU, Institute of Egyptology) – Aspects of mobility in animal cults of Late period and Greco-roman Egypt: a case study on the religious association at Tuna el-Gebel, Middle Egypt

4.30 pm: Discussion

7 pm: dinner

Saturday, June 10

Network approaches and GIS

9.30 am: Margaret W. Conkey (UC Berkeley, Department of Anthropology) – On the Move, Making Tracks, but Marking and Making Place in Ice Age Europe

10 am: Caroline von Nicolai (LMU, Institute of Prehistoric Archaeology and Archaeology of the Roman Provinces) – Transalpine contacts during the Neolithic: an indicator for human mobility and migration?

10.30 am: Coffee break

11 am: Benjamin Porter (UC Berkeley, Department of Near Eastern Studies) – Assembling Jerusalem: Peoples, Things, and Culture in Motion

11.30 am: Jun Sunseri (UC Berkeley, Department of Anthropology) – Tactical Homescapes in Historical Archaeology: An equine biomechanical perspective

12 am: Discussion

12.30 am: Lunch break

Final discussion

2 pm to open end